Reds Even Up The World Series With A 5 to 3 Victory

Rowe, Ace Of Tigers, Lasts But Few Innings

CROSLEY FIELD, CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds evened the World Series today, beating the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 3, in the second contest behind the masterful three-hit hurling of Bucky Walters. Schoolboy Rowe, the Tiger ace, gave up eight hits and all five Cincinnati runs before going to the showers after three and one-third innings.

Walters, in halting the vaunted Tiger powerhouse and hurling the Reds back into the running, walked four men and struck out the same number. The near-capacity crowd of 30,640 partisan fans, downcast by the first-inning scoring splurge of the Tigers, cheered the big Redleg hurler to the echo as he settled down and took command of the proceedings.

Charley Gehringer, Hank Greenberg and Mike Higgins were the only Tigers able to solve Walter's puzzling sinker, Gehringer getting a single and the others rapping doubles.

The supposedly weak-hitting Reds, on the other hand, had a field day. Every player on the team, with the exception of M. McCormick, the center fielder, got at least one bingle, while Wilson, who wasn't expected to hit at all, got a pair. Six bingles, two doubles and a home run rattled off the Cincinnati bats.

Today's game wound up the opening set at Cincinnati, the teams moving on to Detroit for Friday, Saturday and Sunday contests, then back here Monday and Tuesday if necessary.

Manager Del Baker said he would start Tom Bridges, his curve ball specialist, against the Reds in the opener at Detroit. Skipper McKecknie of the Reds was wavering between Junior Thompson and Jim Turner.

Show Hitting Power

The Reds, smarting under "they can't hit" criticism, banged into Rowe for four hits and two runs in the second, tacked together a single and Jim Ripple's screeching homer for two more in the third, and clinched it with another in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Walters and Bill Werber.

The Reds were lucky to get their runs before Rowe was lifted from the mound, for relief hurler John Joseph Perry Gorsica, 23 year old right handed reformed first baseman, turned in one of the bet relief jobs in series history.

The youngster went in with one out in the fourth, and not a Redleg reached the base paths until the eighth when Jimmy Wilson, Cincinnati catcher, scratched a single. Up to that point Gorsica had retired 13 consecutive hitters, but as it was he got 14 of the 15 to face him.

Ripple's homer with Goodman on base and the score 2 all in the third won the game.

First Inning: Tigers—

Walters first pitch was a wild one that went past Catcher Wilson on the fly and he walked Bartel on five throws.

Walters couldn't find the plate and McCosky also walked on five pitches.

Walters walked in to confer with Wilson and Frank McCormick also came over to give encouragement.

With the count one and one, Gehringer slapped a single into right field scoring Bartell and sending McCosky to third.

Greenberg grounded into a double play, Werber to Joost to McCormick, scoring McCosky.

York struck out on four pitches.

Two runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Reds:—

Werber smacked the first pitch at Bartell and was thrown out.

M. McCormick lifted a weak foul into the stands and then struck out.

Goodman was thrown out by Gehringer.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning: Tigers—

Campbell raised a pop foul to Werber inside the third base coaching box.

Higgins got two balls, fouled off a couple and then grounded to Myers.

Tebbetts lifted a high fly to Myers.

Willkie Claims Peril Is Due To Political Aims

Aid To Britain Is Urged In Address At Cleveland

By THEODORE F. KOOP

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN EN ROUTE TO PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie asserted today on a campaign tour through Ohio and Pennsylvania steel centers that if the Roosevelt administration is re-elected "no social security will ever be paid because this nation will be bankrupt."

Remember this statement "ten years from now if you make the mistake of re-electing the present administration," he solemnly told an audience in Youngstown.

The Republican presidential nominee, who charged in Cleveland last night that President Roosevelt's administration was playing "politics with preparedness," said in the Youngstown public square that a party trying to divide American citizens betrays the interests of the United States.

Willkie declared that he sought to close the mind of no man and added:

"When any man closes his mind to hearing discussion, that man is no longer an American citizen. He merely becomes a tool of somebody else."

Rap At Theories

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3— (AP) — Wendell L. Willkie charged last night that the political theories and ambitions of a few men had exposed the United States "to the aggressors" and urged aid for Britain even at a sacrifice of speed in building up America's airfleet.

Throng Of 200,000 Lines Cleveland Streets

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3—(AP)—A cheering throng, estimated by police at 200,000, jammed Cleveland last night to welcome Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee arriving to make a major campaign address.

Spectators lined the streets as Willkie, accompanied by his wife, drove from Union Terminal to a hotel where he rested before going to Public auditorium to speak on foreign affairs.

Defense Speech By President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would deliver a national defense speech from a special train at Dayton, Ohio, October 12.

Stephen T. Early, White House press secretary, said the president's Dayton address would be "non political" and would be carried free by three national radio networks. It will start at 8 p. m. Central Standard Time.

Unlike presidential fireside chats, he continued, it will be addressed not only to the people of this country but to all the 21 American republics.

Since the speech will be made only four days before the date for registration for military service, October 16, Mr. Roosevelt will discuss the draft and the reasons for it, Early said.

In substance, Early continued, the speech will follow what the president said this week to the army chiefs of staff of several other American nations when they called on him at the White House. His statement at that time was devoted to a pan-American theme of "one for all and all for one."

And that will be true of the Dayton speech, Early said, because Mr. Roosevelt "wants the people of all the nations of the hemisphere to know what we are doing and why."

Meetings By The Democrats

Plan Strong Force of Ships For Atlantic

Two Ocean Navy Is To Be Operated In Near Future

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The United States navy, confronted with the new mutual assistance pact signed by Germany, Italy and Japan, plans to establish "a newly organized force" of more than 125 ships in the Atlantic ocean in addition to the present big fleet in the Pacific.

This was announced late Wednesday by the navy in the following words.

"The Navy department will establish in the near future, a newly organized force in the Atlantic. This force will become an integral part of the United States fleet and will be designated as the patrol force, United States fleet. Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, U. S. Navy, will command this force.

Number Over 125

"The new force will consist of the ships now in the Atlantic, some new ships as they are completed, recently recommissioned vessels and vessels purchased and converted for naval use. The patrol force will include all types of vessels and aircraft and will number more than 125 ships. Having all the vessels in the Atlantic under one commander will result in increased efficiency in the operations and training of the vessels."

Whether the German-Italian-Japanese pact played a part in the decision to strengthen the Atlantic force was not stated, but it was plain that the navy has been thinking increasingly of two-ocean defense.

The new move was regarded as the first step toward creating the "two-ocean navy" about which there has been so much discussion in Congress and elsewhere.

Unifies Command

Officials said a primary purpose of the order was to unify command, as well as to strengthen forces on the east coast. Although an Atlantic squadron was created about two years ago, some newly completed vessels temporarily in the Atlantic were considered subject to command of the commander-in-chief of the fleet in the Pacific.

Forces now in the Atlantic include three aging battleships, the New York, Texas and Arkansas; a fourth, semi-demilitarized battleship, the Wyoming; the aircraft carriers Wasp and Ranger, two score or more destroyers, mostly of World war vintage and a small number of newly completed cruisers and submarines.

Secretary of the Navy Knox disclosed that Admiral James O. Richardson, commander-in-chief of the fleet, stationed in the Pacific, was coming to Washington for a "talk on the general situation" in that ocean.

Knox also reported at a press conference that the navy was working on plans for a base in Newfoundland and promised that "we won't let any grass grow under our feet" in developing this and other sites acquired from Great Britain.

Consider Other Plans

Knox declined to say whether a drydock was contemplated for Newfoundland, merely noting that such a structure might require two years or more to complete. He added that as areas were defined for the other bases and data was forthcoming from the navy's survey board, now in the Bahamas, plans would be developed for seven other bases in the Atlantic and Caribbean.

Time Given UCC To Make Reply

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The state supreme court today gave the Unemployment Compensation Commission until October 14 to reply to the attorney general's suit questioning its right to remove state headquarters from Jefferson City.

Attorney General Roy McKittrick filed the suit a month ago, asking commission members by what authority they proposed to move the big department to Sedalia. Since then, however, Chairman Andrew J. Murphy has announced that the Sedalia plan had been abandoned.

Willkie Rally At Longwood Monday

The Willkie for President club has arranged for a meeting at Longwood on next Monday evening, October 9, when a special program will be presented with the Buzz Sawyers to play and with an address by a capable speaker on the political campaign.

Campaign Trail Kept Hot

Some Of The GOP Stars To Speak In Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Hard-campaigning Republican state candidates will be aided by the oratory of some of the party's national stars this month.

First up, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will speak in Springfield next Monday night and in Cape Girardeau Tuesday, Paul Groeschel of Marshall, chairman of the Republican speakers' bureau, announced here last night.

Taft will be followed by Oren Root, Jr., of New York, national chairman of the Associated Willkie Clubs of America, who is scheduled to address the state convention of the Missouri Federation of Young Republican clubs at St. Louis October 10.

A Sedalia rally will hear Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, vice-presidential candidate, on October 17. The following day young Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota will speak at St. Joseph.

Willkie To Visit State

Although the dates are indefinite, Groeschel said presidential nominee Wendell Willkie probably would make three major speeches—at Kansas City, St. Louis and another at some out-state point like Jefferson City or Springfield.

Meantime, still forgoing personal attack, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Forrest C. Donnell, and his Democratic rival, Lawrence McDaniel, kept the campaign trail warm.

At Washington Donnell pledged himself to keep partisan politics out of the state highway system.

"If elected governor, my appointees upon the highway commission will be men of integrity, men of outstanding business and professional experience, men who will keep the idea of construction, maintenance and extension of our great highway ysstem above partisanship," he said.

McDaniel, addressing an Edina audience, turned his guns on the Republican presidential candidate.

"No matter how much Mr. Willkie may declaim his interest in the common people," asserted McDaniel, "identity of his principal supporters and declarations in his behalf by the recognized leaders of 'big business' definitely stamp him as the candidate of entrenched wealth and social privilege."

Delay Action On Airport Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Disagreement over a preparedness airport construction program put a new stumbling block today on the rocky road to a recess for congress.

Senate leaders saw quick approval for the house-approved $1,482,693,636 defense fund measure, which is to finance the peace time conscription program and the concurrent expansion of the standing army.

The outlook was quite different however, for a $200,000,000 war department civil functions bill, which contains an $80,000,000 item for the start of work on 4,000 new airports. A brewing fight on the airport building program threatened to delay senate action on this legislation.

Congress started the week with hopes of cleaning up the legislative calendar and getting away by Sunday. Now, however, the recess talk was in terms of some day next week.

The threat of trouble over the $200,000,000 war department civils functions bill arose after elimination of the airport construction provisions already voted by the house.

The appropriations committee cut out this item when it approved the measure yesterday, but Senator Adams (D-Colo) said he would not be surprised if administration sentiment developed for its return to the bill. The proposed expenditure—$30,000,000 in cash and $50,000,000 in contract authority—would be made under direction of the cival areonautics

Facilities For Great America

Wallace Warns Strong Defenses Are Necessary

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 3.—(AP)—No matter what happens to the world after the European war, Henry A. Wallace says, the United States "has the machinery, the personnel and the skill to build a greater America."

This country could become an example to the world—a "practical example of democracy at work," the Democratic vice presidential candidate declared last night in his closing campaign address to voters of the northwest's wheat and power belt.

After the war, he predicted, "the countries of Europe and Asia will not have gold; we shall not want to take their paper promises and there will be violent objections to our accepting their goods.

"We may give them wheat for awhile, if they are friendly, but in the end we must suit our actions to the new world economic conditions.

"America could become an example to the world—a practical example of democracy at work."

"We have the machinery, the personnel and the skill to build a greater America, no matter what happens in the rest of the world. It will not be easy in the future, but we have the knowledge to make abundance a real blessing for the people of America."

Wallace goes to Missoula, Mont., early today from the inland empire of North Idaho and eastern Washington.

Speaking in Coeur D'Alene, Wallace warned that strong defenses were necessary "if we are going to have peace on this hemisphere."

"Reconstruction after World War II will be much more difficult than after World War I," he declared.

"I say to you to be thankful for a Democratic party that knows how to deal with such problems.

"We had to pick up the pieces in 1932."

Nazi Raiders Drop Bombs On Schools

Anti-Aircraft Guns In Action Against The Foe

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Shortly after dark the Germans came back tonight to begin the 27th consecutive night assault on London. Anti-aircraft guns in central London crashed into action a few seconds after the warning sirens wailed.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Anti-aircraft barrages so heavy as to tie up traffic marked a late afternoon attack on London by unseen German raiders today. Some British quarters suggested that the Nazi air offensive may have turned to "blind" high altitude bombardment.

Anti-aircraft shell fragments fell like hail on the city.

Nazi raiders thrust at the capital through a thick haze in their fourth visit of the day, showering bombs on northwest and southeast sections.

Cabbies who in the past have plied their trade in the worst barrages refused to stir this evening either from their outlying stands for trips into the central part of the city or from central stands to the suburbs.

The attacking planes were hidden by the murk, apparently finding London only through use of flying instruments.

LONDON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Attacking through a thick haze, Nazi raiders paid their fourth hostile visit to London late this afternoon showering bombs on the northeast sections.

The typically English murk made it impossible to see the planes or gauge the direction of anti-aircraft fire.

One raider dropped his entire load of bombs in a southeast district. Firing by directional finders, the anti-aircraft gunners threw up a heavy barrage. The plane was heard droning off in the distance.

Three girls were killed in a southeastern section of the city by a bomb that blasted a laundry. Four others were injured seriously.

In a Midlands town a single bomber showered high explosives and incendiaries. A factory and an elementary school were hit. Two persons were killed.

One Nazi bomber fell a victim to British defenders at Hertingfordbury, near Hertford. Two farm hands rushed out and made prisoners of four German airmen.

Bombs On Schools

London's anti-aircraft guns fired a few short bursts this afternoon during the third alert since dawn. No planes were sighted.

A cluster of incendiary bombs—a "Molotoff" breadbasket—was dropped by a night raider early today, the British reported, on a

Senate Passes Big Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A $1,482,000,000 military appropriations bill, last major defense measure pending before congress, was passed today by the senate.

The bill, containing funds to outfit and maintain a peacetime army of 1,399,441 men, now goes back to the house for action on senate increases which totaled $12,700,000.

Approving the measure, the senate allocated $1,248,000 in cash and $150,000,000 in contract authority to the army. It gave the navy $75,401,000 in direct appropriations and $8,500,000 in contract authority.

Approvimately 85 per cent of the army's appropriation would go toward feeding, clothing, equipping, paying and training 1,024,441 National Guardsmen and conscripts to be called into the service to supplement the army's 375,000 regulars.

There was little discussion of the bill.

Chamberlin Drops Out Of The Cabinet In Great Britain

Refuse To Pay Expenses Until Dispute Over

Assurance Funds Be Forthcoming On Age Assistance

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 3—(AP)—State Auditor Forrest Smith said today he would refuse to pay any expenses of the state merit council until the dispute over the legality of proposed merit examinations for social security workers had been settled.

The council—organized to set up a merit system of job placement in the social security and health departments—has spent about $1,000.

The federal government has withheld funds from Missouri—automatically stopping payment of October old age pension checks—because of the dispute over the merit system's legality in Missouri.

Healthy department officials said today the merit system would not be installed there until the legal points have been settled. The department, with the social security department, was preparing for the examinations before the question of the state's right to participate was raised.

Dr. Harry F. Parker, state health commissioner, said he would not approve expenditure of any funds from his department in connection with the merit system until he had the approval of Washington.

Funds Are Held Up

The challenge of the social security commission's right to use its state money to finance the merit plan has resulted in the government's holding up of sums for Missouri for the last three months of the year. Social security Administrator George I. Haworth said today he had received no indication that the money would be released.

Attorney General Roy McKittrick—he raised the question of the plan's validity—said, however, he had "received assurances that the federal allotment will be made." He did not disclose the source of his information. Sen. Harry S. Truman said the same thing in Washington two days ago and characterized the entire controversy as "just a misunderstanding."

McKittrick told the merit council last week he doubted if it could finance the state job placement examination without an enabling act from the legislature.

On the strength of that statement, William G. Coleman, supervisor of the merit plan, asked the attorney general for an opinion whether state law would permit the social security department to comply with the federal law requiring merit employment.

The formal opinion has not been released.

It was that controversy which prompted the health department today to hold its merit employment plans in abeyance. The health and social security departments together employ about 1,800 persons—many of whom will receive a portion of their salary from federal funds.

Miss Fults Tells Of Black Outs

Sedalia Kiwanians today heard Miss Ruth Fults, local teacher, tell of her experiences in Louth and other English cities while performing her role as exchange teacher there the past year. Miss Fults spoke at the club's noon luncheon in Bothwell Hotel and was introduced by School Superintendent Heber U. Hunt, who had charge of the program.

The speaker's account of her time in England included interesting references to and descriptions of air raid blackouts and the provisions necessary to make them successful, functions of bomb proof shelters and the English attitude of mind toward the war.

President Paul Hedderich called attention to the joint Rotary-Kiwanis meeting to be held next Monday night at 6:30 in Bothwell Hotel when J. C. Penney will speak.

Guests at today's meeting were: Rev. L. M. Starkey and G. Lohrman, of St. Louis.

Willkie Meeting At Broadway School

In the series of Willkie meetings being held in Sedalia public school buildings this week one is announced for 7:30 o'clock this evening when a address will be made and the Buzz Sawyers will play in a well rounded out program to include Willkie motion pictures.

Labor Accorded Stronger Role In Reshuffle

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Ailing Neville Chamberlain, former prime minister under whom Britain entered the war against Germany, dropped out of the government today, and Prime Minister Churchill reshuffled his cabinet to give labor a more prominent role.

The man whose tightly-rolled umbrella came to symbolize his pre-war policy of appeasement toward totalitarian rulers resigned both from his post as lord president of the council, which he had held since his cabinet fell last May after the ill-fated campaign against the Germans in Norway, and from the inner war cabinet.

In quitting the political arena to return to private life, the 71-year-old Chamberlain expressed his "unshaken confidence" that under Churchill's leadership, Britain "with her allies and associates will succeed in overcoming the forces of barbarism which have reduced a great part of Europe to condition little better than slavery."

In reply, Churchill expressed admiration for Chamberlain's aid and said, "you did all you could for victory."

Inner Cabinet Enlarged

Changes in Prime Minister Churchill's government, announced simultaneously, increased the size of the inner war cabinet from six to eight members, but observers who had predicted a sweeping realignment were surprised both by the limited scope of the alterations and the choice of new appointees.

The most important changes included transfer of Laborite Herbert Morrison from the supply ministry to the combined job of secretary for the home department and minister of home security, and naming of Labor Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood to the important inner cabinet.

Sir John Anderson, who was minister of home security, took Chamberlain's place in the war cabinet and as lord president of the council.

Prior to the announcement, political circles had expected that War Secretary Anthony Eden would be elevated to the post of foreign secretary, which he held before splitting with Chamberlain over appeasement in 1938, and also had forecast changes involving Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper and Minister of Aircraft Production Lord Beaverbrook.

Edin Keeps Office

Instead, Eden, Halifax, Duff Cooper and Beaverbrook were left in their respective offices.

Other government appointments:

Viscount Cranborne, heretofore paymaster general, became secretary of state for dominion affairs, succeeding Viscount Caldecote. Viscount Cranborne formerly was undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, but resigned along with Eden in February, 1938.

Viscount Caldecote—lord chief justice, replacing Lord Hewart whose resignation is to be effective October 12 and who is to be made a viscount.

Sir Andrew Duncan—minister of supply, succeeding Morrison.

Capt. Oliver Lyttelton — president of the board of trade, succeeding Sir Andrew Duncan.

Sir John Reith—minister of works and public buildings, a new cabinet post. He also was elevated to the peerage as a baron.

Whose Fault Will It Be?

How close the United States may be today to an actual declaration of war will be much better determined by historians 20 years hence.

The people in this country do not want war. They will not have it if it can be avoided with honor. But if Congress is forced to meet some black day and declare war against an aggressor nation, it will be neither the people nor the government who will have forced us into the conflict. Sole responsibility will rest upon the closed corporation of Napoleons who have found the rest of the world too small for their pillaging operations.

War in this country can never begin over any one "incident." Rather it will come after an accumulation of indignities, of atrocities, of gestures calculated to indicate a complete lack of respect for the sovereignty of a democratic people. It will come, if it comes, only after the horror that is being inflicted on the innocent becomes too great to be endured even vicariously.

Historians today are well aware that the Lusitania disaster just before our entrance into World War I was not in itself responsible for the United States' decision to get into the fight. It helped to crystalize feeling against Germany of course. But fundamentally, that antagonism already existed before the boat was torpedoed.

It began in the first year of the war, when German troops cut through Belgium and Holland in complete disregard of international law. This enmity toward Germany was fanned during the next three years by humiliations American craft experienced on the high seas, by reports of submarines lurking in American waters, by the brazen operations of German agents on the American continent.

No one dragged the United States into that war but the Kaiser. At the moment of its beginning, Americans were resigned to neutrality, were not certain which side they favored.

If the moral support of virtually the whole of the American people means anything, we are already in World War II. As new events unfold, as the dictatorial nations become bolder and sign new treaties to emphasize their right to destruction, hatred for the methods of totalitarianism becomes more intense among Americans.

The total defense we have at last undertaken may be the instrument needed to keep us out of War—to keep war away from us. Americans hope it is. But if it becomes necessary to emphasize our devotion to democracy in any other way, we shall be ready.

If that time ever comes, remember—the aggressor nations will have asked for it.

Spanish Gains In Popularity

There seems to be a considerable surge in the popularity of Spanish in the nation's schools this year. Reports from widely separated sections indicate that students are turning from the languages of Goethe and de Maupassant to the language of Cedvantes.

National ties and animosities always have a great influence on language study, just as they influence other aspects of our national life. During the first World War, the German language fell into disrepute in this country, just as did the non-offending dachshund and the word sauerkraut.

Although these likes and dislikes often become immoderate and indicate an unhealthy attitude, the spread of Spanish is encouraging. It has been too long neglected for French, popularly believed to be more cultural and German, with its wealth of scientific writings.

Popularity of Spanish can hardly be attributed to a great love for Spain, so it must indicate an increased consciousness of our ties with Latin America. It should do much to foster friendly relations, for nothing so quickly leads to amity with another people as an understanding of their language.

Of Men And Horses

We don't know how Adolf Hitler feels about horses, but he might do well to study them.

Equine war booty, says a dispatch from Berlin, is giving the Germans trouble. After their juggernaut rolled through the Netherlands, Belgium and France, the Nazis took back with them a number of horses from those countries. The horses, of course, don't understand German, and when their drivers shout the German equivalents of "Gee" and "Haw," the horses are just as likely as not to go in the wrong direction.

If that's true of horses, why not of men? It may be that their reaction time is slower. They're not so likely to balk at not understanding the German's language, but in time they'll find far greater differences in the Nazi philosophy which they can't understand and don't want to.

And then the men of Belgium and Holland and France will balk too, and start off in the opposite direction, just as the horses are doing now.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—One reason President Roosevelt and his naval advisers are not greatly perturbed about Japan's signing a formal alliance with Hitler and Mussolini is a confidential survey U. S. naval experts have made of the Japanese navy.

This reveals that Japanese warships only have on hand enough oil for about two and one-half months of warfare.

Japan gets its oil chiefly from California and the Dutch East Indies, having almost no supplies of its own. That, of course, is one reason she covets the Dutch East Indies. However, naval surveys also show that the capture of these islands will not be as easy as might be expected.

For the Dutch islands of Java and Sumatra have been preparing for one threat of Japanese invasion for two years. About twenty Dutch submarines are stationed in these waters, plus about 300 bombing planes, many of them purchased in the United States. Finally, the islands are well fortified with carefully concealed big guns.

Result is that military experts believe the Dutch could hold out against Japanese naval invaders for about four months. And during this time, Japan's oil supply, if embargoed by the United States, might become exhausted.

This may be one reason why the Japanese have made haste slowly in their contemplated plans for invasion of the Dutch East Indies. They did not want to move until they were sure first that Britain was in a desperate position in its fight with Hitler; and second, that the United States was worried about Europe and did not want to get its fleet preoccupied in the Pacific.

Perkins Spanking

Secretary Frances Perkins, long under fire in inner administration quarters, will be the target of some hot blasts by Wendell Willkie in his Pittsburgh speech tonight.

This will be the GOP nominee's major labor address, and it will be aimed chiefly at organized workers in the big industrial centers, with whom admittedly he is weak. Willkie considers the talk so important that he took more time and care preparing it than his acceptance speech.

Willkie strongly resents the recent attacks on his labor record as head of Commonwealth and Southern, particularly the scathing article in the "New Republic." His first impulse was to roll up his sleeves and deliver a slashing answer. But campaign advisers warned against it, urging that the best defense was a sizzling attack on the administration.

Willkie accepted their judgment and will devote only a small part of his speech to his own labor record. Its main burden will be a caustic grilling of the New Deal's administration of its own labor laws.

He will charge that labor hasn't been given an adequate voice in agencies in which it is vitally interested. That is where Miss Perkins comes in. She may not be mentioned by name, for fear of offending the woman's vote, but Willkie will leave no doubt whom he means. He will assert that her Labor Department is manned by "misfits" and others unacceptable to either the AFL or CIO.

Also, unless the text of the speech is changed, Willkie will promise that if elected he will appoint from the "ranks of labor" as Secretary of Labor, and give labor greater representation in other branches of the government, such as the Social Security Board, Wage-Hour Division, etc. He will charge that these agencies are being run by college professors and theorists who don't understand labor's problems.

Note: One of the main collaborators on Willkie's speech was Lewis G. Hines, AFL Labor Commissioner of Pennsylvania and one of the campaign managers of Governor Arthur James. Hines' appointment as assistant to AFL carpenter boss "Big Bill" Hutcheson, chairman of the GOP labor campaign committee, soon will be announced.

Local Air Bases

The Army Air Corps isn't saying anything publicly, but it is making a quiet survey of all airports in the country for the purpose of locating new bases and training centers.

Objective behind the plan is to secure the greatest possible dispersion of air forces necessary for defense. Four cities already have been selected: New Orleans, West Palm Beach, Fla., Tallahassee, Fla., and Augusta, Ga.

The number of new bases planned is a secret, but they will cover the entire country with a network of air defenses. The Air Corps now leases fueling accommodations at certain commercial airports, but these facilities will be greatly expanded under the new program.

Also under consideration is the establishment of anti-aircraft defenses in strategic section of the country. Home Guard organizations, to be set up under the bill pending in Congress, will play an imporant part in these plans. Many of the Home Guards, composed of older men, will be anti-aircraft units.

It is wonderful to hear the airplanes no longer . . . to walk in the field with nothing to fear.—Zita, former Austrian empress, now in exile in the U. S.

Hating In A Hurry—

Charles Reade, English novelist, once wrote: "It is droll and sad, but true, that Christendom is full of men in a hurry to hate."

It is personal weakness to hate a person you do not know or whom you have never met. Man's mind borders on insanity when he augments inexcusable hatred with violence.

Unfortunate indeed, are communities who harbor the type of wild-eyed individuals lacking elementary self-control of their feelings during a political campaign.

Americans, notable for their tolerance and sportsmanship, are quick in disgust over the recent episodes attending the Wendell Willkie campaign tour in which the candidate, his wife and entourage have been targets for missles thrown dangerously.

The pity of it is that the cause underlying the commission of these incidents seems to have been unwittingly nourished by the very persons who now cry to high heaven against it. It is much safer to play with high explosives than with class hatreds.

"God's Country"—

There is no pronounced indication among Sedalians that so-called international crises or domestic emergencies are disturbing the even tenor of their ways. These things are read about and discussed with an unusual degree of calmness over the coffee cups; politics the same way—without heat Once more it is reassuring that the democratic philosophy of life and action still persists in Sedalia and Central Missouri.

I am reminded of the chuckles of derision among eastern friends when in the industrial town where I lived, frequent occasion prompted me to refer to Central Missouri as the "Heart of America," and "God's Country." Nevertheless that feeling is stronger in my heart today after the past three years resumption of my residence in Sedalia, one of the outstanding typically American towns. To a visitor we vouchsafed the prediction that if the time ever came for America to turn from the democratic way of life, Sedalia and Central Missouri would be the last bulwark to succumb to foreign isms and fancies.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10¢ and 25¢.

OUR COUNTRY

Edna Ferber Urges All of Us To Become Better Members in That Great Club, the U. S. A.

Twenty-second of 24 articles on "Our Country," written exclusively for NEA Service and The Sedalia Democrat and Capital by the nation's most famous authors.

By EDNA FERBER
Author of "Mother Knows Best," "Show Boat," "Cimarron," etc.

Everybody wants to belong. From birth our instinct is to join with someone or something that will sustain and reassure us. While we're infants we want to belong to our parents and our home. To these we cling for physical and economic and mental support. Then we branch out in a search for further assurance. We join a school, a gang, a club, a guild, a religious sect, a business group, a profession, a union. And we work for them.

How we work for them. We Americans are the greatest joiners in the world. Perhaps it's our newness and our feeling of insecurity that makes this so. But it is true. And how we work for our own group. We pay dues, we pay special assessments, we plan benefits, build places of meeting, try to gain new members, vote, appoint or elect officers, criticize, praise, talk shop. We belong. Lawyers, doctors, writers, artisans, engineers, teachers, students, laborers, designers, merchants—how we love to belong!

But the biggest club of all, that vast and inclusive union to which every one of us belongs—that one we have lately got into the habit of treating with neglect, or contempt, or disrespect or mere carelessness. The strongest and most sustaining organization in the world, to which we here in America have been privileged to affiliate ourselves, has been allowed, by the great majority of us, to get along as best it could without our help.

That club, union, guild, home, refuge is known as the United States of America. Its dues are called taxes, its officers are called president, senator, congressman, governor, mayor, and many more titles. Its passwords are freedom and liberty and equality, and the organization lives up to its slogan, though its individual members frequently do not.

Its members keep pushing fellow-members in the face. They want to belong, but they don't want to work at it. So, then little by little with magnificent help from Hitler and Stalin, we have built a fine machine of destruction, we have bred a gang whose object is to destroy our guild, our union. One section of the country has been stirred up against another; religion has been set against religion, class against class, national origin against national origin.

The very worst thing that could possibly happen to Hitler would be to see a United States of America. A United States of America. There are certain things I've seen and seen in the past five or 10 years, and I'm sick of seeing them. I'm resentful of seeing labor set against labor, two camps defying each other through their power-hungry leaders. Why doesn't labor, as one man, stand up on its legs and say which it wants and what it wants, and then function again as the thing it truly is—the most vital muscle in the whole body of America—the heart that pumps the life blood through the United States.

The vast majority of us hate the plan on which the German government is conducted, we despise the conduct of the Italian dictator and his crew. We have here in the United States, according to recent and reliable figures, between 15 and 20 millions of Germans and about 5 millions of Italians. They and their children aren't here because they found Germany and Italy too perfect. They came because they wanted more freedom or more money or more peace than they could get in their own country. And with very few exceptions they want to belong. With deep sincerity they want to belong. But there is this strange new Hitler-spawned tendency to call them foreigners.

What are we all but foreigners! What is a foreigner in America? Albert Einstein? Paul Robeson? Thomas Mann? Jascha Heifetz? Carl Schurz? Lindbergh? Or are the foreigners exemplified in those countless millions who, over the past century, have built the railroads that criss-cross the country, the skyscrapers that are the original architectural form produced by us here? The reservoirs that furnish our water supply, the mammoth dams that make the building of the Egyptian Pyramids seem child's play done with blocks, the great steel ingots turned out white-hot in the steel mills, all, all done by the toiling hands of refugees.

For they were refugees, though they may not have come to America in war time. They came here for refuge from oppression or poverty, or persecution, or militarism, or some form of rustration. They came, and they want to belong, and they have the right to belong. Some are strong in talent and in intellect; some are strong in muscle. We need them as much as they need us. More! They want to join the club and pay their dues and vote. And if we don't welcome them to these privileges then they'll turn to another club that will. Its name may be Nazism or Communism. But the fault will be ours.

They knew what they were talking about—those old boys—when they coined a lot of phrases. They weren't hollow phrases. They ran true. United We Stand. Divided We Fall. In Union There Is Strength. One and Indivisible. As the United States of America we can surmount these next 10 years that are looming so terrifyingly ahead. As the Divided States of America we never can.

We are listening for that Voice—a Voice to lead us out of the wilderness of doubt and uncertainty and apprehension. We need only realize that the Voice is within each one of us if we have the courage and the spirit to speak.

The saving of democracy calls for an entirely new pattern of government, writes Stewart Edward White in the next article of this serious on "Our Country."

The Story of Your Newspaper

I Am the Artist . . .

This is one of a series of articles telling the story of your newspaper. The Sedalia Democrat-Capital is presenting these articles in connection with National Newspaper Week, October 1-8.

I'm your newspaper artist.

I draw the cartoons, the sketches from life, the comic strips, the daily chuckles, the maps, and the decorative designs that brighten up your newspaper.

I'm not Michelangelo. Under my hand the white Bristol-board gradually takes form as the India ink scratches out of my pen. It is art? Well, if art has anything to do with life, then maybe it is.

The people in my comic strip are real. Maybe they're more real to you than the people across the street. They are your daily companions, as they are mine. If they don't ring true, they die—and that's more than can be said for the people across the street.

So part of my job, the light part of it, is being court jester to His Majesty, the American People. There's another, more serious part to my job. I am also the "X" that marks for you the specific spot in a world picture obscured by confusing details. I must bring out the highlights from the unimportant mass in this picture.

Sometimes I do this literally, carefully guiding my airbrush over a photograph—bringing out a thin, important line here; toning down jumbled, unimportant, confusing backgrounds there.

More often I do this symbolically through sketches and cartoons.

But in all cases—be it touching up a blurred picture, portraying a scene forbidden to cameras, or cartooning the foibles of the great and near-great—it has but one purpose: Through it all I hope to stop for you, momentarily, your fast-spinning world; to pull into focus for you some scene, some event, some idea you might have missed as it whirled past on the earth's kaleidoscope.

In your hands is the power to remedy injustice, to right wrong, to halt undemocratic ideas before they are turned into actions. But often injustice and wrong are hidden in the endless, jumbled ranks of words and actions that march quietly, inconspicuously past. You might miss them, if I did not spotlight them indelibly in India ink.

My unique art makes me powerful, because what I express you understand in the split second of sight, while others must ask time for the telling. Through cartoons which have helped you focus on injustice, I have helped you remove grafters from power; keep crooks out of office break greedy men and machines, grown fat in corruption.

I am also free. In America, as in no other country in the world, I can criticize in caricature and pen-point burlesque the titans and tycoons, in government and in business, in power and out.

I am your newspaper artist. I know that as long as my pen helps you focus on the truth, both you and I will remain free.

NEXT: The newspaper mechanical man.

Society And Clubs

Mrs. J. U. Morris, 510 Dal-Whi-Mo court, was hostess to the members of the Stephens College club at a bridge-luncheon Wednesday afternoon, honoring the birthday anniversary of President James M. Wood of the college, located at Columbia.

The traditional ceremony was effectively given by the club president, Mrs. John McMullan, who spoke the words, "As this candle glows within this circle of Stephens daughters, here and throughout the world may it rekindle happy memories and inspire in the heart of every alumna, as she walks the invisible campus of the larger Stephens, a desire to exemplify in fuller perfection the ideals of her alma mater."

A beautiful birthday cake in autumn colors was contributed by Miss Christine Landmann and the attractive hand-painted place cards by Miss Marian Keens.

Following the luncheon, a group of Stephens College songs were sung and a birthday telegram to President Wood, written in verse by Mrs. L. J. Banner, was read by the club secretary, Mrs. C. E. Wyrick. Mrs. Banner who has had poetry and other literary work in a number of publications is known as Patricia Banner.

The bridge favors were awarded to Mrs. C. E. Van Horn and Mrs. George Chambers. In appreciation for her services as secretary during the last year, Mrs. Wyrick, who is leaving soon for Columbus, Ohio, was presented with a parting gift. Mrs. Banner was elected as the new secretary to serve for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Morris' guests were Mrs. John T. McMullan, Mrs. C. E. Wyrick, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, Mrs. A. R. Beach, Mrs. Olive Penquite, Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, Mrs. David Henderson, Mrs. George Chambers, Mrs. Ruth Riley, Mrs. Clarence Carter, Mrs. Sid Condict, Mrs. L. J. Banner, Miss Marian Keens, Miss Dorothy Suter and Miss Margaret Ferguson.

Miss Lelia Shortridge, 904 South Grand avenue, was very pleasantly surprised at her home Wednesday evening, when the teachers of Broadway school and a few friends walked in with well filled baskets and prepared a delicious dinner.

Miss Shortridge, who was expecting only two guests to call was astonished when she saw twenty.

The following members of the faculty were present: Miss Lida Burress, Miss Edyth Couey, Miss Anna Connor, Miss Anna Mae Bolin, Mis Ruth Fults, Miss Marian Keens, Miss Hallie Holmesley, Miss Florence Hert, Mrs. Lillian Mac Gugin, Miss Frances Meyers, Mrs. Ruth Riley, Mrs. Catherine Miller, Miss Alice Summers and Elbert Shores. A hearty note of appreciation of the efficient and faithful work done by the outgoing president, Mrs. V. Engholm, was given.

Devotion to the work of the church, and loyal cooperation with new officers was the keynote of the meeting.

After the business session we were favored with a solo by Miss Gladys Arnett.

In the guessing contest of scriptural questions Mrs. C. H. Wills won the prize.

There were thirteen members and seven visitors present. Later dainty and unique refreshments were served by Mrs. Arnett, assisted by her daughter, Miss Gladys.

KruGon JUST WHAT SHE HAD WANTED

Its Merit Proved Beyond All Doubt In Her Case; Dizziness, Headaches, Sluggish Feeling Easily Relieved

"For years before I learned of KruGon it seemed I was always suffering with one ailment or another," said Mrs. Marguerite Fourcade, 211 Ottawa St., Leavenworth, Kansas. "Poor elimination had been such a worry for me allowing the collection of intestinal impurities and my general health soon became greatly impaired. Irregular kidney action began troubling me making it almost impossible to get the rest and sleep I needed and I always felt so tired-out. I would often have those dizzy spells until I had to sit down for a while to get my balance. It seemed those dreadful headaches were always present and I was so sluggish it was an effort for me to get about. But in spite of all the money I spent on all kinds of medicine I got no better. I did not see how KruGon could help me but to make sure I gave it a trial."

"KruGon was wonderful for me," continued Mrs. Fourcade. "My health worries have been solved for now that I am getting proper elimination of those clogged toxic impurities I am feeling so much better. I get full nights of rest, undisturbed sleep and rise with so much pep and vitality each morning. Those headaches and dizzy spells have also been relieved and I am feeling fine. I found that I could put my whole dependence in KruGon."

KruGon is sold by McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 W. Main St., this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Reds Even Up The World Series With A 5 To 3 Victory

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Reds:

F. McCormick smashed the first pitch on the ground into left field for a single. Ripple popped to Bartell in short left field.

Wilson singled into short right advancing F. McCormick to second. Joost shot a hard single to center, bringing F. McCormick home and putting Wilson on second.

Myers hit the first pitch between Higgins and Bartell for a single, scoring Wilson and sendfield, Joost racing to third and yelled madly. Detroit's infield came in to confer with Rowe.

Tebbetts tried to catch Joost off second and threw into center field, Joos tracing to third and Myers going to second.

Walters flied to McCosky in short center, and Joost was prevented from coming home by a great throw.

Werber waited out a three and two count and then walked on a low pitch inside, filling the bases.

M. McCormick raised a high fly which Bartell just got under by running backwards.

Two runs, four hits, one error, three left.

Third Inning: Tigers—

Rowe took a count of three and two and then went down swinging.

Bartell raised a high fly to M. McCormick.

McCosky then lined to M. McCormick in short center.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Reds—

Goodman laid a drag bunt down toward first base and beat York's throw to Rowe for a it.

Nazi Raiders Drop Bombs On Schools

famous school in London's northwest environs. It took firemen two hours to bring the fire under control.

(The location and other circumstances of the report indicate that this was Harrow, one of the three most notable boys' schools in England. The other two are Rugby and Eton. Harrow is about 15 miles northwest of Charing Cross, heart of London.

Harrow dates back to 1571 when John Lyon, a yeoman of the neighboring village of Preston, founded it under a charter from Queen Elizabeth.

Prime Minister Churchill attended Harrow.)

Another famous school in the southeast suburbs was hit a second time and damaged slightly.

(Alleyn's Dulwich, founded in 1616, is a famous public school in London's southeast suburbs. In that area there also is Dulwich College, founded in 1619)

Raid Twenty Districts

Nazi air invaders loosed bombs on 20 districts of London last night and early today, but the capital's central section had its fourth consecutive night of comparatively light raiding.

Anti-aircraft firing frequently was heavy in the city's outskirts as German warplanes returned for their 26th nightly assault.

British reporters continued to tell of the development of secret weapons for use against the raiders. Some sources believed a change in defensive tactics has forced the Germans to avoid attacking the central region in force.

RAF raiders, bucking a near gale, roared across the English channel again to strike at German communications, at oil targets, and at "invasion ports" on the French and Belgian coasts.

(An air raid alarm sent Berliners into shelters for an hour and 12 minutes early today).

Meanwhile, the government announced the plan to send British children abroad to escape falling bombs had been abandoned "until further notice" because of the sinking of the steamship City of Benares. Seventy-four children were lost. The British said a German torpedo caused the sinking.

Approximately 2,650 children have departed under the scheme, most of them to Canada.

Last night for the first time, the use by a German raider of shrapnel bombs was reported in a town in southeast England. The bomb killed one man and injured others, damaging houses considerably.

GOP Held A Rally At Bahner

Republican county committee had a big rally at Bahner school last night. Over 200 voters of Lake Creek township were present. All the local candidates were present and were introduced by E. L. Zoellig of Sedalia. George Wilkerson, the speaker of the evening, delivered a very forceful address in the interest of the Republican ticket. The GOP is feeling very much encouraged by the interest taken by the voters in the various townships where they have had a large attendance in two meetings. Tonight the Republicans go to Lookout school in Heaths Creek township where Earl Crawford will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Noted Speakers For Rally Here

A big Republican rally will be held Saturday evening, October 5. The principal speakers of the evening will be Ed Scheufler, chairman of the Jackson county central Republican committee, and Geo. H. Miller, Republican candidate for state senator.

Ed Scheufler is a well known Kansas City attorney is a man well informed on state politics the sponsors of the rally state.

George H. Miller is the prosecuting attorney of Hickory county and resides at Hermitage, Missouri. He has a fine record as prosecuting attorney, and comes well recommended by the people of his county. His patriotism and magnetic personality have made him many friends in Pettis county during the short time he has been speaking to the people.

Wife Of Chief An Overtime Parker

Traffic court was a busy place this morning when Judge C. W. Bente assessed fines for overtime parking, failure to have city license stickers and running stop signs. Mrs. H. "Zone" Anderson, wife of Chief of Police Anderson, fell a victim of overtime parking and was fined $1.

Those not having city license stickers were: William Evans, Ross Fulton, Raymond Stout, and Lewis Whitley, the latter a Negro. All were fined $1.

Overtime parkers who paid $1 fines are: James Kehoe, Mrs. H. O. Berry, M. W. Horn, "Bud" McEniry, Herb Machesty, Walter Ferris and Miss Bertha Rose.

Ray Hunt paid a $2 fine for running a stop sign.

Hot Dogs and Coffee at Game

Hot dogs, coffee, popcorn, peanuts and everything to go along to make a football game comfortable, will be available at home games of the Smith-Cotton Tigers this year. The "L" club of the school has arranged to supply them.

Willkie Claims Peril Due To Political Aims

delivery in the Public auditorium, the Republican presidential nominee said: "We are not prepared and we are not getting prepared."

Until the people have an adequate defense system "they don't want any more international incidents," Willkie declared in his first campaign address in this politically-pivotal state, where he formerly worked as an Akron attorney.

Ratio Down In 1936

In arguing that the nation is unprepared, Willkie said that in 1936, "an election year," the ratio of defense expenditures to other spending dropped to its lowest point.

"There were other, more attractive ways to spend the money," he asserted, adding:

"I say that we are now exposed to the aggressors because of the political theories and the political ambitions of a few men."

Declaring "the defense job that lies ahead of us is appalling in magnitude, Willkie said, "We can not make ourselves strong by a patchwork method."

In his foreign policy outline, Willkie asserted:

"I would continue my efforts to aid the heroic British people. I would aid the British even if it meant the sacrifice of some speed in building up our own air fleet. I would do so because the longer Britain held out the more time we have in which to prepare ourselves."

Defense Steps Inadequate

The nominee reiterated his contentions, advanced earlier in the day, that the new German-Italian-Japanese pact demonstrated those countries regarded the United States "in terms of war" and that the administration had not taken adequate defense steps when Hitler came to power.

With the assertion that the people don't want "any more dramatic gestures" or "swashbuckling words," until a defense system is set up, Willkie observed that with only a one-ocean navy "we need to make the Panama Canal safe by building two sets of locks so that if one is destroyed we may use the other. To get these locks will take six years.

"And, of course, eventually we need a two-ocean navy, but that will take seven years."

Most Early Gains On Stocks Lost

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The stock market ran into a little profit taking trouble today and, except for sustained firmness of steels and scattered industrial favorites, most early gains of fractions to a point or so were wiped out.

Transfers for the five hours were around 900,000 shares.

Optimism generally continued in most speculative circles. This it was said, emanated mainly from more encouraging European war dispatches and from the home business front were huge defense spending seemingly was beginning to take hold in numerous corporations.

Best share performers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, J. C. Penny, Douglas Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, United Air Lines, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Market Street Railway preferred, Budd Mfg., preferred, Pullman, Baldwin Locomotive and U. S. Gypsum. Some of these lost ground at the finish.

Carrier loans again were propped in the loans division. Commodities were uneven.

Chamberlain Drops Out Of Cabinet In Great Britain

azon—minister of transport, succeeding Sir John Reith.

Viscount Cranborne, Capt. Lyttelton and Lieut.-Col. Moore-Brazazon were named to the king's privy council.

Sir John Andrew, in succeeding Chamberlain, was moved after widespread press criticism of his air raid shelter policy.

Laborite Morrison, who replaces Sir John, has a reputation as a "livewire" and man of the people.

Another move apparently aimed at mollifying the public was the creation of the extra place in the war cabinet for dynamic Labor Minister Bevin, whose star British say definitely seems on the rise. Many observers already are calling him "England's next prime minister."

Besides Anderson, Bevin and Wood, the other inner cabinet members now are Churchill, Halifax, Beaverbrook, Laborite Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal; and Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio, also a Laborite.

Influence Still Holds

Although the cabinet lost a pillar of conservation in Chamberlain, the new list shows a strong conservative influence still dominates, thus reflecting the tremendous hold of the conservative party even with a "party rebel" such as Churchill in power.

In the cabinet shuffle, there are only two new faces—and both are conservative. They are Capt. Lyttleton pretty much of an unknown politically, and Lieut.-Col. Brabazon, a pioneer motorist and aviators.

Resignation of Chamberlain came as no surprise, since he underwent a major operation in July. He still is in need of rest, his friends report, and has been unable to get it in bomb-battered London.

First British comment on the shakeup came from the Press Association, which said Bevin's appointment "should strengthen the premier's war team,"

"Some of the changes made by Churchill are certainly unexpected, but Mr. Bevin's inclusion in the war cabinet is no surprise to those in touch with opinion at Westminster," the agency said.

The Press Association's lobby correspondent described the cabinet changes as "sweeping ministerial reconstruction" and remarked:

"It is a significant fact and indicative of efficient prosecution of the war that the ministers of the three fighting services have been left to carry on their work."

Referring to the retirement of Chamberlain, the agency said: "In all parts of the house of commons, whatever views are held as to his policy, there will be regret at the departure from Downing street of Mr. Neville Chamberlain and hope that his health will be restored soon."

The lobby correspondent for Reuters (British news agency) said the general effect of the changes would be to strengthen the government.

Officials: Ray French, referee; George Smith umpire; Fred Yeager, head linesman. Game time, 8 p. m.

Friday night the Smith-Cotton high school and the Bolivar high school eleven will clash on the Liberty Park gridiron. It will be the second meeting of these two teams in as many years, with Smith-Cotton being one-up on the visitors.

The Tigers are going into Friday's contest in better shape than they have ever been in with only two players suffering with any injuries of any consequence. Herman Logan, end, will not get into the affair this week because of an injured shoulder being held back until the Central Missouri conference games are started. The other player is Ralph Thomas who is suffering from an infected hand.

Benson Is Satisfied.

Coach Joe Benson stated he would probably use Carl Russell at end in place of Thomas if the hand is not in condition for him to play. Russell has been showing up good at the position the past week in practice.

Jimmy Myers who has been regular at half back has been shifted to quarterback position. Myers has turned out in a pleasing manner to Benson who states he has worked into calling signals with little difficulty. Myers will also take charge of the kicking department.

Three Passers Good

The passing section will be divided between three players all who are showing up with accuracy in tossing the pigskin through the air. Randall Scott, Leland Thomas, and Jimmy Anderson.

In the backfield Thomas will probably divide time with Fred Swisher at halfback, while Randall Scott and Jack Graham will divide work during the game in halfback position.

"Bud" Michaelis, first year man, who has been working hard to make the first squad has been shifted to working at end, and no doubt will draw a little work there. He also has been showing up in the backfield. Benson indicated Michaelis might play Friday but indicated his real work will come during conference play.

Bolivar A Strong Team

Little information has been received as to the Bolivar setup this season, other than the team has improved greatly over the 1939 squad and should produce plenty of drive along with a neat passing attack.

With this "dope" in Benson's hands this afternoon no scrimmage will be held but plenty of work will be had on passing defense. A light scrimmage was held Wednesday afternoon at which time the entire four squads displayed some excellent work.

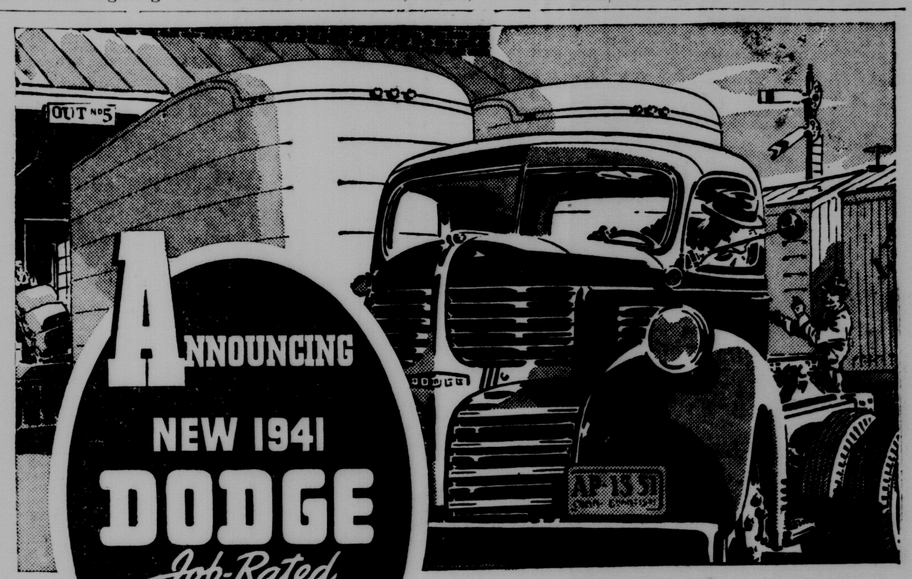

Pep Parade Downtown

The "Spiz" club of the high school is sponsoring a pep parade for downtown Sedalia at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The entire high school body along with faculty members will be in the parade.

Smith-Cotton's high school band will step out in their new uniforms, headed by their leader J. T. Alexander. The school board appropriated money last spring for the new equipment, and when the Tiger band parades down Ohio avenue, every Sedalian will be proud of the high school institution.

The football players will ride in the parade and as soon as the pep assembly is over on the court house lawn they will retire to their homes for a well needed rest.

The parade is under the auspices of the Spiz Club.

'Rhythm On The River' Starring Bing Crosby, Coming To The Fox Theatre Sunday

Bing Crosby gets a few pointers on the art of trumpeting from Wingy Mannone, hottest brass blower in New York's Swing Lane. Bing brought Wingy to Hollywood for a part in his new picture, "Rhythm On The River," coming to the Fox Theatre Sunday for three days. Mary Martin, Basil Rathbone play co-starring roles in the film.

Davis-Boyer Film, 'All This, Heaven Too' Opens Sunday, Uptown

"All This And Heaven, Too," co-starring Bette Davis and Chas. Boyer, will have its first local showing at the Uptown theatre on Sunday. Produced by Warner Bros., "All This And Heaven, Too" was adapted from Rachel Field's memorable best seller, has gone through innumerable printings since its publication in 1938.

Bette Davis as Mademoiselle Henriette Deluzy-Desportes and Charles Boyer as the Duc de Praslin are the protagonists in one of the most sensational murder trials of all time, a scandal that rocked two continents and was a contributing factor in helping a French king from his throne. Featured with the dynamic star team are Jeffrey Lynn as Henry Field, young American cleric who helps Henriette to rehabilitate herself, and Barbara O'Neill as the neurotic, wildly passionate wife of the Duc.

Rounding out the brilliant supporting cast are: Virginia Weidler, Helen Westley, Walter Hampden, Henry Daniell, Harry Davenport, George Coulouris, Montagu Love, Janet Beecher, June Lockhart, Ann Todd and many more.

Anatole Litvak directed, from the screen play by Casey Robinson, based on Miss Field's novel. The picture was made under the personal supervision of Jack L. Warner, vice president in charge of production, Hal B. Wallis, executive producer, and David Lewis, associate producer.

Passes Away Morning After Seeing Son Win Victory

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3—(AP)—Henry O. B. Newsom, 68, of Hartsville, S. C., father of Louis "Buck" Newsom, died in his hotel room today less than 12 hours after watching his son pitch the Detroit Tigers to their first world series victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Newsom said death was the result of a heart ailment from which his father had suffered for several months.

"It was only the second time he had seen me pitch," the son said, adding "I didn't think he'd make it from home."

Newsom said that tentatively he planned to remain with the Detroit team for possible service during the series.

Newsom leaves two daughters and another son.

Sidelights On World Series

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 3—(AP)—World "serious" sidelights:

If you think the Cincinnati Reds aren't in a serious predicament, just take a look at the record. (In case you didn't know, the Reds lost the series opener yesterday to Detroit, 7 to 2).

Well, to delve into history a bit, the club that won the opening game of 36 previous series went on to take the title 25 times, which definitely puts the Reds on the short end. And should they lose today they're practically out of it, for teams losing the first two contests have been beaten out in 17 of 18 years. Only the Yanks of 1921 annexed the first two games and then lost the series. Teams winning the first three have copped the series 10 times and lost none, so the National loop champs had better get going today or they're likely to run into another of those massacres such as they suffered last year against the Yanks.

While Manager Bill McKechnie coaches at third base for the Reds, the long, lean lanky lad in the first base box is Harry (Hank) Gowdy of Columbus, hero of the most sensational series ever played. Hank was catcher for the Boston Braves back in 1914 when that club, in last place on July 19, won 60 of the last 76 games to take the flag by 10½ contests. Hank caught all four games of the world series, beating the Philadelphia Athletics four straight.

Just over the left field wall at Crosley field is a thoroughfare named "York" street. And Rudy York, the Tiger slugger, is hoping to blast one out there before the series ends, for a "York to York" homer.

The limited 33,000 seating capacity of the local ball yard is expected to slash into the "cut" of the players. The players' pool for the first game was $75,040.80, a far cry from the $111,710.91 derived from last year's opener at New York. The experts figure the winners will get about $5,500 each this year, with each loser taking down around $4,200.

Jim Farley can't seem to get politics off his mind, even with the big series on. Bob Jones, the "grand slam" golf king introduced Farley to Horton Smith, top-notch pro golfer, and Smith was wearing a Willkie button.

Farley, former national democratic chairman, eyed the GOP candidate's button on Horton's lapel, and asked: "Well, hows' the campaign going?"

Odd Fellows will give Roast Pig Supper Tuesday, Oct. 8th, 7:30 at Woodman-Maccabee Hall. Price 25c.—Adv.

Cinnamon

There are two types of cinnamon—Ceylon, which is the true cinnamon and Cassia, also known in the trade as cinnamon. Both are the barks of trees. Some types of safron. For this reason safron mand than Ceylon because their flavor is stronger and more lasting.

Order Wives of Oil Employes Quit Singapore

Rome Paper In Assertion Japan Threatens Attack

SHANGHAI, Oct. 3—(AP)—Wives of all American employes of the Standard Vacuum Oil company were reported today to have been ordered to sail for the United States by the first available boats.

Observers expressed belief the order was due to disturbed Japanese-American relations.

Threat Of Attack

ROME, Oct. 3—(AP)—Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo d'Italia said today that Japan is preparing to attack Singapore, Britain's great far eastern fortress, in the event that Britain obstructs Japan's policy in the Orient or the United States enters the war.

Mario Appelius, the paper's leading commentator, calling Singapore "the pivot of British positions in East Asia, declared:

"Japan is seeking positions in the best possible position strategically against Singapore in anticipation of being forced by English hostility or the intervention of new allies of England to attack and throw down the pillar of Singapore."

Appelius warned the United States that it would face the combined forces of the German, Italian and Japanese empires of 20,000,000 soldiers, 2,000,000 tons of warships and from 25,000 to 30,000 airplanes, as well as their "unbeatable strategic position."

"Spain and Russia, informed in a special manner of this resolution of the axis," he wrote, "have made it known that they recognize as just the will of the axis to prevent greater enlargements of the conflict."

Apprehension Evident

SHANGHAI. Oct. 3—(AP)—British official circles expressed apprehension today lest the Japanese seize Liu Kung island off Shantung peninsula to enforce the Japanese-dominated Nanking regime's recommendation that Britain be denied renewal of a 10-year lease on port facilities there.

Foreign travelers from Weihaiwei, on the northern shore of the peninsula, reported that six Japanese destroyers, one cruiser and a transport were concentrated off the island.

Closes Cafe After 52 Years

One of Sedalia's oldest business establishments has closed after fifty-two years existence. It is Henry Blatterman's cafe at 117 West Main street.

In telling of his Sedalia business Mr. Blatterman said he started in the cafe business at 120 West Main street, with entrance just across from the Missouri Pacific depot 52 years ago. His business expanded so that he decided to move to the present location.

"I've enjoyed being in business in Sedalia," Mr. Blatterman said, adding "it has been a pleasure meeting with the Sedalians, and as the years rolle by the old timers have passed, and new faces have come and gone. I have met hundreds and thousands of people through my cafe, all who I shall miss very much."

Mr. Blatterman said he had already received several offers to lease the cafe.

Mr. Blatterman stated he was planning a vacation trip to Washington, D. C., with Mrs. Blatterman to visit with their daughter, Miss Marjorie Blatterman, who is located there. They plan on making the trip by automobile.

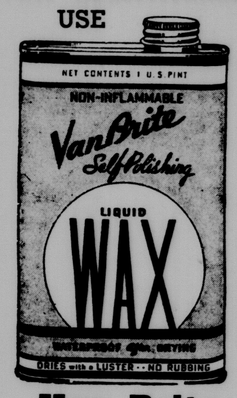

Mr. Blatterman has been a resident of Sedalia for sixty-eight years. They reside at 901 West Third street.

Parents of a Son

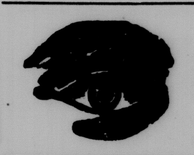

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Romig are the proud parents of a nine pound daughter born Friday, September 27. The name of Joyce Ellen has been given to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Romig reside at the Lamm farm on West Sixteenth street road.

Lamb Production As Well As Uses Are Topics At Meeting

Pettis County Has Sizeable Flocks; Cooking Specialist Gives Demonstration

"The production of quality animals to make delicious meals goes back to a good breeding program on the farm," said T. A. Ewing, state extension animal husbandman, who appeared on the program for the meat retailers in the McGrath building Tuesday evening.

He further discussed the relationship of land use and lamb use, pointing out that Pettis county produces a great deal of lamb to consume some of its crops and it uses a very small amount of lamb as food.

R. O. Roth of the National Livestock and Meat Board, who also appeared on the program, showed figures to the effect that New Zealand used 110 pounds of lamb per capita per year, while the United States uses only seven and the particular area in which Pettis county is located uses less than two pounds per capita. The statement was also made that New Zealand, although it is not as large as Wyoming, has more sheep population than the whole United States.

Reason For Dislikes

The reason behind some of the dislikes for lamb may be traced to poor quality lamb, which is provided for food use and perhaps to mental dislikes. One man in the audience at the lamb cooking meeting made the statement that he did not know that lamb could taste so good as one of the dishes which he sampled.

According to a survey made of over 300 high school students in Kansas City, only 57 per cent of the students, when asked if they liked lamb, said they did—but after being entertained at a luncheon at which lamb was served, 87 per cent of them reported that they liked the meat which was served to them. When questioned as to what kind of meat they had eaten, a very small percentage recognized it as lamb.

Roth pointed out that not only the display of meat and the quality of meat has an influence on tasty dishes, but the method of cooking is one of the most important considerations. "There are housewives in Pettis county who do not cook some of the less popular cuts of lamb because they don't know how to do a good job of it," he said.

It is the meat cutters' responsibility to help homemakers know the proper methods of meat cookery as well as some of the nutritive values of meat.

Miss Flora Carl, in her discussion with the meat retailers, said: "It is not as difficult to cook lamb well as it is beef, since lamb has less connective tissue and is a young animal with tender muscles. Lamb is also freer from disease than any other meat. It is an excellent food, is palatable and is digestible."

Well Balanced Diets

Another statement made by Roth indicated that through well balanced diets with the proper usage of meats and vegetables combined, people need be little concerned about the proper vitamin content of their bodies. It is more desirable and less expensive to take vitamins through proper foods than through pills.

Quite a discussion of meat cuts and meat values was held during the evening's program. Two carcasses, showing the difference in a finished lamb and a partly finished lamb, were on display. These animals had been slaughtered in the morning demonstration in order to show the onlookers what the lamb looked like with the wool on as compared to wheat the carcasses looked like after the wool was removed.

The retailers were invited to obtain lamb recipes for the use of Pettis county housewives from the county extensio noffice.

Miss Carl prepared various lamb dishes at the afternoon meeting and her advice and suggestions will appear in an article on this page next week.

Sealed Bids On Limestone To Be Taken

Will Be Opened On Saturday In Pettis County ACA Office

Sealed bids in single copy will be received by the Pettis County Agricultural Conservation committee to furnish agricultural ground limestone to farmers in Pettis county, Missouri, as grant of aid under the agricultural Conservation program during the period from date of award through December 31, 1940.

The agricultural limestone furnished must contain 80 per cent or more calcium carbonate or its equivalent and ground sufficiently fine so that 90 per cent, including all the finer particles obtained in the grinding process, will pass through an eight-mesh sieve and contain not more than 12 per cent moisture at time of delivery.

Bids should be furnished on the basis delivered to the farm, spread on the farm and at the crusher.

The area to be included in these bids comprise Blackwater, Bowling Green, Cedar, Dresden, Heath's Creek, Houstonia, Hughesville, La Monte, Longwood, Sedalia and Smithton townships of Pettis county, Missouri. Separate bids as to type of delivery or furnished at the quarry must be made for each township. Each contractor bidding shall specify the tonnage of agricultural limestone that he can furnish within the time of the contract as well as the amount of his daily output.

All bids will be opened and considered on Saturday, October 5, 1940, at 2 p. m., in the office of the Pettis County Agricultural Conservation Association, Fifth street and Lamine avenue.

AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION

400 Extension Club Members And Families at Achievement Program

Four hundred extension club members and their families enjoyed the programs and exhibits of the Women's Achievement Day held last Thursday, at Convention hall, Liberty Park.

The exhibits which were viewed and enjoyed by all were varied and showed many of the activities of the homemakers groups.

For instance, there was the antique corner arranged by the La Monte Homemakers including refinished and recaned chairs, hooked rugs, and attractive flower arrangements.

A bread display by the Van Natta group showed that bread does not need to be a monotonous item in the diet. They exhibited 13 varieties.

Many Nimble Fingers

Many nimble fingers were necessary to make up the Eldorado Crochet exhibit of pot holders, baskets, and collar and cuff set.

Further along the food line was the Hopewell display of garden products showing a "Live at Home" theme. Prairie Ridge exhibited a poster showing the cost and food value oif cereals.

Probably the most popular exhibit was that of the Maplewood club which displayed the sick room equipment available in the community.

A scrap book made by the South Abell club was unusual in that each member made a page showing her individual interests. These were assembled into a club scrap book which also included club notes.

A lovely flower arrangement by the Liberty club added to the attractiveness of the entire exhibit.

Display Spatterwork

A special interest group from Smithton displayed spatterwork and block printing along with hooked rugs, flower arrangements, and a refinished chair.

Both Sunnyside and Oak Grove displayed revamped furniture, Sunnyside showing chairs refinished by different processes and Oak Grove showing a reupholstered chair.

Dresden showed refinished furniture along with some refinished picture frames three of which were made by dismantling one old fashioned frame. They showed 4-H clothing and canning from the 4-H clubs which they sponsored.

Handwork was exhibited by the Georgetown club, clothing made from feed sacks and a refinished table were shown by the Champion Striped College group, and Bowling Green displayed spatterwork.

In addition to the individual club exhibits, the secretary's books were exhibited in order to give a further idea of the work done by the various clubs.

Present Comedy

The program began at 11:00 with group singing led by Mrs. William Green, accompanied by Mrs. Duard Edwards. The Hillview group, directed by Mrs. Clyde Dooley, gave the comedy, "Opal's Three Lovers" with Mrs. F. C. Thomason, Mrs. A. C. Breckenridge, Mrs. C. Arnold, and Mrs. W. A. Witt in the cast. The audience was surprised to see what good looking "men" the club members made.

Mrs. W. J. Lamm of the Smithton Friendly Homemakers read a report prepared by Mrs. William McKnight giving a summary of the Red Cross home nursing class which some of their members attended.

A talk entitled "A Quarter Century of Farm Bureau" was given by Ralph Dow, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau. Mr. Dow explained that the Farm Bureau sponsored Extension Service in Pettis county and told how the two organizations worked together in improving the agricultural program of the county. He further stated that Pettis county was the first in the state to have this cooperaive enterprise. The relationship was started 27 years ago.

This year their achievement was a fashion show in charge of Ruth Chappell, one of the leaders, with the following girls taking part: June Thompson, Virginia Lee Thompson, Bonnie Jean Thompson, Sarlene Thompson, Dorothy Cole, Mary Louise Lane, Doris Lane, and Ruby Lane.

At noon Achievement Day participants and visitors had a basket dinner which gave a splendid opportunity for visiting and renewing acquaintances.

The afternoon program opened with group singing and was followed by a report given by Mrs. C. B. Ray on the years work of the Blackwater Progressive club.

The County Women's Chorus sang two numbers, "Trees" and "To a Wild Rose." They were directed by Mr Burney Morris and accompanied by Miss Buckley. The members of the chorus who participated were: Mrs. J. A. DeJarette, Mrs. Alice Brow, Mrs. G. E. Thompson, Mrs. George Swope, Mrs. Ray O'Dell, Mrs. Lorrain Berry, Mrs. Parke Greene, Mrs. W. P. Tucker, Mrs. Dee Powell, Mrs. C. A. Moore, Mrs. R. E. Kirby, Mrs. Charles Rages, and Mrs. H. L. McCune. Mrs. G. G. Gorrell, Mrs. D. Powell, and Mrs. Chas. Rages, accompanied by Miss Buckley of Hughesville, sang "Pirate Dreams."

Original Skit

An original skit, "Clubber or Blubber," written by Mrs. James McFatrich, was presented by the South Abell club. Those taking part were Mrs. James McFatrich, Mrs. Landon Whitfield, Mrs. Mason Riley, Mrs. Jack Mock, Mrs. R. R. Raines, and Mrs. Jack Kehl.

The Longwood club had as their number a vocal solo, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," by Mida Grinstead.

Mrs. Raymond Wasson, representing the Stokley club gave a reading, "At the Grocery Store."

Lovelace club presented two guitar numbers by Mrs. Kenneth Potter.

"A Sole to Sole Talk," directed by Mrs. E. M. Copeland and played by Mrs. Boyd Young, Mrs. Roy Tipton, Billy and Nancy Tipton, Mac Loewer, and Laura Mae Harper of Bois D'Arc, taught many poits in shoe selection.

Candle Service

The day was concluded by a candle lighting service led by Mrs. Edward Heffernan, one of the moster homemakers of the county.

After the installation of Mrs. Frank Barrick as president of the council for another year, Mrs. Raymond Wasson, Stokley club, and Mrs. Paul Lewis, Oak Grove club, were installed as vice-president and secretary respectively. Mrs. J. J. Lamm was reinstalled as reporter.

As the club presidents lighted the candles of the audience everyone joined in singing "Follow the Gleam." Then while the lights gleamed the audience saluted the flag and was dismissed.

LaMonte Farmer Finds Use Of Agricultural Lime Valuable

Forty acres of second-year red clover on the Ernest Jones farm, near La Monte, is furnishing an abundance of good pasture for 370 lambs and 36 1200-pound steers. A hay crop of one and three-fourths tons per acre and a seed crop of 36 bushels has been harvested this year.

Ernest Jones of the La Monte community figures that the use of agricultural lime on his farm has paid him dividends on his investments during the time that he has been using it.

Since 1936, Mr. Jones has applied 535 tons of agricultural limestone on 209 acres of his crop land. On the fields that have been limed, a rotation of small grains with either sweet or red clover have been followed.

One 40-acre field was limed in August, 1938, at the rate of three tons per acre This field was seeded to barley in September, 1938, and to red clover in March, 1939. The barley in 1939 was harvested for grain and made a yield of 34 bushels per acre.

First Crop Harvested

This year (1940) the first crop of red clover was harvested for hay yielding one and three-fourths tons per acre. The second red clover crop was harvested for seed and yielded 36 bushels. The third crop or growth of this red clover is being used for pasture.

At the present time Jones has on this 40 acres 370 head of 50-pound Texas lambs and 36 head of 1200-pound whiteface steers. The clover is good enough to afford an abundance of pasture for the lambs and the steers for a period of at least 30 days.

Jones used his first lime in 1936 on a 44-acre field applying two and one-half tons per acre. The returns from this field since that time has been as follows: In the spring of 1937 the field was seeded to oats, a part of which was grazed off and the remainder cut for hay. In the fall of 1937, the field was seeded to barley which was harvested for grain in the summer of 1938 yielding 35 bushels per acre. Sweet clover was seeded in the barley in the spring of 1938. The sweet clover was used for pasture during the fall of 1938 and the summer of 1939.

This 44-acre of second year sweet clover from April 1 to the middle of June, 1939, pastured 90 head of 700 to 900-pound steers and 125 hogs. During this grazing period, Jones had trouble with bloat and lost five of his steers. About the middle of June, the livestock was taken off of the sweet clover so that it would mature a seed crop. 125 bushels of seed was harvested.

Prepare Seed Bed

After the seed crop was harvested, a seed bed was prepared and the field seeded to wheat. The yield of wheat on this field in 1940 was 32 bushels per acre.

In August, 1939, an 80-acre field on the Jones farm was limed, of which 40 acres was limed at the rate of three tons per acre and another 40 limed at the rate of one and one-half tons per acre. Forty acres was seeded to barley in the fall of 1939 and the other 40 acres seeded to oats in the spring of 1940.

The entire 80 acres was seeded to red clover in March, 1940. A good stand of red clover was secured on the entire 80 acres, however, the red clover on the portion that received three tons per acre is a more dense stand and is of a more vigorous growth.

The oats was cut for hay giving a yield of one ton per acre and the barley was harvested for grain yielding 40 bushels per acre.

This year Jones has applied 125 tons of lime on an additional 45 acres that will go to small grain this fall and clover next spring.

Builds Up Fertility

With this kind of a program, Jones is building up the fertility of his land, controlling erosion, producing an abundance of high quality feed for livestock, as well as earning his soil building practice in the agricultural conservation program.

In discussing this program, Jones says he is far ahead by growing small grain and red clover as compared to corn from the standpoint of soil fertility and livestock feed.

Not only has he carried out a lime, legume program, but he is carrying out a terracing program as well. In the fall of 1938 he terraced the 40-acre field. His reaction to these terraces is that he says he likes them so well that he is going to terrace more of his fields.

Achievement Presentations Provide Fine Opportunity

The finest activity which 4-H club members have been doing the last month is the planning and presenting of local achievement programs. These programs provide an opportunity to acquaint the community with the progress of 4-H club work and at the same time give the boys and girls a chance to appear before the public in a program by giving demonstrations, reports and musical or other numbers.

At some of the local achievements, the members have demonstrated model club meetings—others have presented plays. Besides the program, the clubs have been exhibiting such articles as clothing, scrapbooks, room accessories, poultry, corn and medicine cabinets.

Many of the clubs also exhibit awards won at the county and state round-ups and the state fair. Also on exhibit usually are charters which these clubs have received for having met state standard requirements. Many of the clubs will also receive seals to be added to their collection for having had a definite program of work, judging, demonstrations, regular meetings, exhibits, a local achievement and a high percentage of completions. Any club is to be praised for achieving this goal.

The 4-H club members, their families and friends, who have been enjoying these programs, are those of the Bunker Hill, Flat Creek, Oak Grove, Ionia, Quisenberry, South Abell, Liberty, Maplewood and Prairie Ridge clubs.

However, achievement days are not over as the Sunnyside, Dresden and Smithton clubs plan to have theirs in the very near future. Reports of others should be coming in to the extension office soon.

State Corn Shucking Contest Scheduled

The 1940 Missouri State Corn Shucking contest will be held on the Claude Delshe farm in Grundy county, near Trenton, Mo., on October 25.

If Pettis county is to participate in the state contest, designation to the Missouri Ruralist must be made by October 12.

Those persons who are interested in entering a county corn shucking contest to select a county winner to represent the county in the state contest are asked to make their entries to the extension agent not later than Saturday, October 12.

University To Entertain Rural Folk

35th Annual Farm And Home Week At Columbia Nears

"Farm and Home Week at the University of Missouri College of Agriculture is an old established institution, the one this year being the thirty-fifth year for the meeitng," says Dean M. F. Miller in extending to every resident of of the state an invitation to attend the event October 29-31.

"This meeting brings together each year hundreds of farm men and women to learn of the recent findings of the Experiment Station, to discuss mutual problems, and to derive inspiration and enjoyment from the various programs given for entertainment. The College extends a most cordial invitation to the farmers and the farm women of Missouri to attend these meetings."

Following the custom of the last few years, the morning program from 9 to 11 o'clock will be divided into six general groups. These are poultry, livestock farming, fruit farming, dairy farming, home economics, and general farming. For the afternoon sessions, each of twelve departments of the College will conduct specialized programs.

At 11 o'clock each day all Farm and Home Week visitors will come together for addresses by speakers of national reputation.

These inçlude Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D. C., on Tuesday morning; Dr. John Ise of the department of economics, University of Kansas, Wednesday morning; and Mrs. Richard B. Morrow, farm woman and speaker on farm topics, of Richmond, Indiana, on Thursday morning.

The programs for Tuesday and Wednesday nights will be of an entertainment nature, and will consist of music and plays furnished by rural Missouri groups.

Iron Purification Patent

Gilbert Martien of Newark, N. J., applied for a patent on a process of purifying molten iron by blowing air through it about a month before the Englishman, Henry Bessemer, did in 1855.

Because of the increased average height, one of the larger air companies has lifted the height limit for its stewardesses an inch, to five feet five inches. The weight limit of 120 pounds remains unchanged.

According to the Civil Aeronautics, the total revenue of the domestic air mail carriers for the month of April, 1940, amounted to $5,903,018, of which $4,098,163 was passenger revenue.

New Rules On Soil Credits Are Received

Announcement Made By W. E. Ragar, County Chairman

Revised regulations have been received for the earning of soil building credits during the 1940 program year, according to W. E. Ragar, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Conservation Association.

The regulations now in force are as follows:

Any farmer who has requested an advance of liming material previous to October 1 under the grant of aid program may earn credit for the application of lime under the 1940 program if the limestone is spread prior to October 31.

Any farmer who has placed an order for limestone to be delivered on a cash or assignment basis prior to September 30, may apply the material during the month of October and receive credit for the same under the 1940 program.

This extension of time has been granted due to the large supply of limestone ordered and the delay of the contractors in making the deliveries.

Those farmers who still have lime to be delivered are requested to bring their receipts to the county office as soon as possible in order that their papers may be sent to the state office for computation of payment and thus avoid further delay in their payment.

The extension of time granted applies only to the application of limestone and does not apply to the seeding of grasses or legumes or other soil building practices.

Approve 4-H Dairy Awards

Awards of special gold medals have been approved for the county winning 4-H team in the national 4-H dairy production demonstration contest, according to word received at the county extension agent's office.

Members of the team are Leland Harsch and Orville Harsch of Mora. The subject of their demonstration was "Producnig Quality Milk." They were coached by Orville Harsch and William J. Murphy assistant county agent.

The Greene county team won the state contest and receives an all-expense trip provided with all other awards by the Kraft Cheese Company to complete in the finals to be held at the National Dairy Show, Harrisburg, Pa. October 12-19.

Members of the four top teams, one from each extension section, will each receive $250.00 college scholarships. Members of the second highest ranking teams in the four sections will receive $150.00 scholarships.

The purpose of the contest, conducted cooperatively by the extension services, is to provide valuable training and experience for dairy clubsters and focus attention of dairymen on producing methods which insure a profit and yield a better, purer product for the consumer.

YESTERDAY: Joe calms Sue Mary's fears about a strike at Smithson, urges her to marry him, to break with the new crowd. Sue Mary asks for a little time, promises to set the wedding date in a week. She wonders what she can do in a week.

RIOTS AT SMITHSON

CHAPTER XVII

"SHE did have it. I tell you I saw her looking it over. Saw her with m. own eyes."

Kitty's whisper was furious and her green eyes shot fire as she confronted Babs. "Don't stand there and try to tell me to be quiet. That one—she's wrong. She's up to something."

Sue Mary stood quietly behind the file and listened to the whispered argument. It seemed to her that all she was doing lately was listening to other people's conversations. First at the apartment, whenever Vera and Natalie were together; then at the hall, when Nick issued confidential orders to some of the workers; and here at the office, whenever she believed she could benefit by learning something more about Vera's aims.

"Well, so what?" Babs said mildly. "Just because Miss Grant was hunting for another paper and Vera happened to have it on her desk doesn't create an international incident. You're one of those hysterical people who sees a spy under every wastebasket and behind every door."

Kitty turned away, sulkily. On her desk was the morning paper and she turned the pages over to the society sheet's gossip column. Sue Mary knew what she was reading. She herself had seen it while coming down on the bus that morning, and she had marked it and given it to Vera.

It was one of those inconsequential bits of froth used as filler when society news was slack. "Who," it questioned, "was the stunning madonna type taking Ross Clark Junior's mind off the airport worries last night at th Golden Calf?"

Vera had shrugged her shoulders and smiled when she read it. "Well, one sees all phases of life that way," she said. "Beer and salami in the hall one night; champagne and a would-be politician the next."

"Do you think he has political ambitions?" Sue Mary asked, surprised.

"Yes. He's conceited enough to picture himself in the limelight. He was born in society, so that offers no goal. He's stupid enough to believe a political career would add to his charm. All he needs is money, and from what he says he needs plenty. He must be in debt right up to his ears. He certainly hasn't the sense his father has."

"You sound as though you knew him pretty well, Vera." Sue Mary watched the other girl's face intently.

"I've had a few dates with him and when you're with a guy who drinks as much as he does, you can learn a lot—if you're smart."

SUE MARY turned to traditional feminine outlet for her worries that noon hour. Working with the Youth Progress group had changed her. None of the girls there thought much about clothes. Vera was the exception, at least as far as dressing for the office, but on the whole, the girls considered clothes unimportant. One concentrated on ideals.

And now Sue Mary decided upon an abrupt about-face. She looked at her last pay check and decided to go shopping.

A little smile tugged at her lips. A girl who planned to get married had a right to think about a trousseau. Perhaps it wasn't exactly practical to buy gossamer-thin chiffon hose, or fragile lace-trimmed lingerie, but she did, squandering her money with a recklessness that lifted her spirits higher than they had been in days. She tried on dresses—early fall frocks—and marched out with two that were much too expensive for her budget.

Joe had suggested she buy for their home. But if he knew anything of feminine psychology, he would know just how much buying these clothes meant now. A new lipstick, gay nail polish, a fragrant, cool toilet water, and a silly, useless bracelet that jingled on her wrist at the slightest provocation. She felt she could handle any situation.

And then she saw the paper. She was on her way back to the office with her arms filled with bundles when the noon editions' front pages stared up at her from a pile on the street corner.

Trouble at the Smithson factory. Rioting at the south gate as the morning shift went out.

She bought a paper and backed up against a building, away out of the crush of the hurrying noon-hour crowd, to read the story.

Both labor and plant officials agreed that the trouble came as a shock to them. Negotiations were under way and satisfactory progress had been made so far. No one could put the blame for the riot on any particular group of men. Statements that pay was to be cut were absolutely false. Yet trouble there had been, and two workers and one plant policeman had needed medical attention.

Leaflets had been found at the gate, urging the men to demand their rights; warning them that they were being "sold down the river" by labor representatives who had gone over to the management. The company officials announced they were putting extra guards around the plant to prevent sabotage, and that work would go on as usual so that the materials they manufactured would be delivered on time to the plane factory.

* * *

SUE MARY called Joe that evening. Each minute had dragged back at the office. She kept watching the clock for the time when he would be out of work and she could talk to him. The hands dragged maddeningly and Babs had finally smiled and winked.

"Must have an important date," she grinned.

Sue Mary tried to make her frozen lips smile back. She couldn't even feel until she knew from Joe that he was all right. She stopped at a drug store on her way home when she thought he might be at his room.

"Of course, I'm all right," he said.

She was incoherent in her anxiety. "But those headlines. That story about some men hurt," she kept repeating.

"It's nothing to get excited about," Joe told her. "I'm glad you worried, though. You do love me, don't you?"

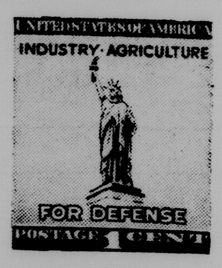

"You know that. And you know I'll worry about you—always, Joe. Will there be any more trouble, dear? You will be careful, won't you? Anything can happen when a riot starts."

"You're borrowing trouble again, sweetheart." The laughter left his voice then. "I thought you were borrowing it the last time we were together. Remember? You asked me then if there was a possibility of labor trouble at the factory.

"Maybe you had second-sight, Sue Mary. Or would you say a —pipeline? A pipeline through the Youth Progress crowd?"

Late Setback On Grain Market

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The wheat market's attempted rally was snuffed out today in a final hour setback that wiped away early gains ranging from ½ to ¾ cent.

July, 1941, contracts, representing next year's crop, led the downturn and sold at home than 4 cents discount under December contracts. Traders attributed weakness of the deferred delivery to favorable crop prospects and the poor outlook for export business as well as likelihood of a large carryover next July 1.

Wheat closed unchanged to ½ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, December 81⅞c to 82c, May 818⅜c to 81½c; corn ¼ to ½ cent down, December 57½c to 57⅝c; May 587⅛c to 583/4c; oats ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Crown Champion Hen In Country

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 2—(AP)—"Miss Massachusetts," an 18-months-old Rhode Island Red hen, was today crowned the "champion hen of the United States."

Owned by E. D. Parmenter of Franklin, Mass., this hen defeated 11 other regional champions.

The new champion laid 340 big eggs in 51 weeks. The eggs weighed 46.1 pounds, nearly eight times the hen's own weight.

Thirteen judges, headed by Dr. Robert C. Ogle of Cornell university, picked the winner after much laborious calculation at the Fifth Northeastern Poultry convention here.

Second prize went to "Miss Oregon," a White Leghorn owned by J. A. Hansen of Corvallis, Ore. This bird laid 343 eggs in 51 weeks, but wasn't deemed by the judges to be as good looking as the New England hen.

"Miss Kansas," another White Leghorn from the J. O. Coombs farm at Sedgwick, Kas., won third prize with 322 eggs and an exceptionally handsome appearance.

FOR Children's SNIFFLES

SPARE your child much of the misery of sniffling, sneezing, and smothery nostrils due to colds by inserting Mentholatum in his nostrils.

This gentle ointment soothes and protects irritated mucous membrane, reduces swelling, and thus opens breathing passages wider. It soon checks sneezing and sniffling.

Also rub Mentholatum on the child's chest, back, and neck. This will improve local blood circulation and help relieve cold discomforts more effectively.

Mentholatum helps in so many ways that you should always remember this: For Discomforts of Colds—Mentholatum. Link them together in your mind.

NEW D-X leads the motor fuel parade

X-TRA ROAD PERFORMANCE GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK

Prove, in your own car, the advantages of D-X . . . more mileage, more knockless power and speed. Prove these X-tras at our risk. Any Diamond D-X dealer will issue you a Trial Bond which guarantees the return of your money if D-X . . . in your own opinion . . does not deliver X-tra performance. You can't lose, so try a tankful today—at any Diamond D-X station.

MID-CONTINENT PETROLEUM CORPORATION

Here is a really new motor fuel . . . a fuel that definitely gives X-tra road performance—extra speed, power and mileage. NEW D-X has a new "high" in anti-knock—the result of new refining processes. It is different from ordinary gasolines because it provides protective lubrication to valves, pistons, rings, upper-cylinder walls. This plus value is obtained by processing a special high heat-resisting lubricant into D-X in its manufacture. Yet, with all its X-tras, D-X costs no more than nationally advertised regular gasolines! Try it!
